Old Time Days Association reports outstanding results

Despite overcast skies and a chilly breeze, Lemon Grove's Old Time Days, by all reports, was a glowing success.

Attendance, nearly doubled over last year's celebration, was estimated to be between 15,000 and 20,000, according to Steve Aldrich, President of the Old Time Days Association.

"Everything ran smoothly this year. The [OTD Assn.] committee worked harder than ever; they all did a terrific job. Jan Davis [in charge of publicity] surpassed herself this year – she's great! – and the results were better than ever!" Aldrich beamed.

He said the committee would meet later this week to recap the event and then enjoy a brief hiatus before beginning plans for next year's celebration.

Friday night's barbecue dinner, concert, street dance and fireworks drew about 6,000 folks, Aldrich estimated.

The barbecue dinner, provided by the Lemon Grove Firefighters' Association for the first time this year, was served to nearly 600 diners; more than twice the number served last year. Long lines and slow service caused some grumbling, but the general consensus concluded that "the food is much better, and worth the wait." Firefighters vowed to resolve the snags next year. Dinner proceeds benefit a number of worthy causes, including the Burn Center, Lemon Grove Fun Run, and local youth sports.

Friends of the Lemon Grove Library had a used-book sale both Friday night and Saturday. President Tracy Brooks reported a whopping $780 increase to that organization's treasury. The books were all donated, he said, and he wants to publicly thank the firefighters who assisted in the placement of heavy tables. Friends' proceeds benefit the library and its programs.

The Kiwanis Club reported 920 pancake breakfasts served Saturday morning, an increase of 30 percent over previous years.

John Pipes, who oversees the annual parade with the assistance of dozens of volunteers, appreciated the cooperation of all the entrants, he said, adding that the 140 units, comprised of thousands of people of all ages, flowed smoothly toward line-up positions and down the parade route with "nary a hitch."

The parade itself, from start to finish, is to be televised by Cox Cable, Friday, May 19, at 8 p.m. on Channel 4.

After weeks of practice runs, the Trolley arrived on Friday, May 12. With ribbon-cuttings and speeches at each stop, the Trolley made its way to Lemon Grove and then on to Spring Street in La Mesa, where a special inaugural Ceremony was held. On Saturday, residents were invited to ride free, and on Sunday, the Trolley began regular service.

The ride to La Mesa was pleasant, offering scenic views of the area. Unsightly areas were also evident, and weren't missed by city council members, who commented on the problem at Monday's council meeting.

Highway Patrol pursuit ends on rooftop in Lemon Grove

Last Friday morning while many of us were getting ready for Old Time Days, and some of us were christening the Trolley, there was a chase, a crash, and another chase, all of which resulted in the arrest of the driver of a stolen pickup truck.

It began when Chula Vista police were alerted to the possible whereabouts of a 1987 Toyota pickup which was suspected of being a stolen vehicle. The Chula Vista police tipped-off the CHP and CHP Officer Allen Wilkerson began tailing the truck and its three occupants driving westbound on East H Street in Chula Vista. Wilkerson reported that he called for backup units and ran the licence plates to verify that the truck was a stolen vehicle.

The report states that they turned north on 805 going 55 mph. When backup units arrived around Euclid, Wilkerson said that he turned on his lights to pull over the pickup, which responded by increasing its speed to approximately 80 mph and driving dangerously through traffic.

The report states that as the pickup approached the Lemon Grove Avenue exit from Highway 94, the driver made a quick lane change to exit in front of another car. Running stop signs and signals, the chase went east on North, south on Grove, west on Broadway, and south on Lemon Grove Avenue, where the car chase ended when the pickup ran into a truck which was stopped, headed westbound on Golden Avenue at Lemon Grove Avenue.

The driver then fled on foot eastbound on Golden Avenue while his two female passengers were taken into custody at the crash site. With the help of citizens who saw the driver climb to the roof of a nearby building, the suspect was apprehended on the roof and taken into custody.

According to Officer Alicia Conteras of the CHP, the driver identified himself as Kenneth Ray Kirby, 22, of Susanville State Prison, Susanville, CA. He was charged with grand theft auto, possession of a stolen auto, being under the influence of drugs, failure to yield to an emergency vehicle, and driving without a license.

His passengers, Jaymie C. Stivers, 19, and Lisa A. Kelly, 18, were released without being charged.

Although some witnesses stated that they had seen the many running with a gun, no weapon was found by police.

Sundowner May 24 at Arts Complex

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce will hold its May Sundowner on Wednesday, May 24, at the Lemon Grove Arts Complex, 9075 Broadway (next to the library) from 5:30-7:30 p.m. The sponsors are Community Arts Advisory Council, C & M Wire, and the Lemon Grove Review.

All Chamber members and guests are encouraged to attend.

Hazardous waste collection May 20

Monte Vista High School, 3230 Sweetwater Springs Road, is the site of the household hazardous waste collection day, Saturday, May 20, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

If household products containing toxic chemicals (like pesticides, paints, solvents, and auto care products) are thrown in the trash, down the drain, or into the ground, they may pollute the air, water or soil.

You are encouraged to bring any of the above household products or others labelled "caution," "warning," "danger," or "poison" to the school for proper disposition. Do not bring explosive or radioactive materials, or waste from your business. Recycle waste oil and batteries at participating service stations. Bring products in their original containers, and don't combine or mix products.

If you have any questions, or need to dispose of household products during the week, call the County Environmental Health Services at 236-2267.

Sheriff's deputies arrest two, seek other suspects

Robbery suspect sought

According to Detective Bruce Fulton, a suspect described as a 35-38 year old Hispanic male, six feet in height and about 175 pounds, entered the Hair Cut Factory on Campo Road in Spring Valley Saturday and calmly announced to the shop owner, "I'm going to rob you," and exhibited a handgun.

He emptied the register cash drawer of approximately $100, the owner said, and removed her wallet from her purse, standing near the register. She reported to deputies that the wallet contained little cash, but held credit cards, Fulton said.

Employees who witnessed the robbery said the suspect is of medium build, has short, thick dark hair and a pock-marcked complexion, Fulton said.

Possible gang activity

Jose Armando Ibarra, 20, was injured Friday night during a possible gang-related attack at Spring Valley Park on Jamacha Boulevard, Fulton said.

Ibarra and a companion, William Richard Rodriguez, 18, who were on foot, were pursued in different directions by a pair of vehicles, carrying five Hispanic males, according to a report filed by Deputy Greg Barnett.

Ibarra, chased by a white car, was struck from behind. Rodriguez, pursued by a blue pick-up, heard two shots fired, the report said.

A .25 caliber semi-automatic was recovered, discovered lying on the ground by one of the firefighters who responded to assist Ibarra. Whether the gun is owned by one of the suspects or one of the victims has not been determined, Fulton said.

Neighborhood melee

Scott Craig Brunn, 31, was arrested Thursday evening by Sheriff's detectives Fred Rowe and Bruce Fulton and charged with attempted murder.

The victim, Carlos Strattman, 28, driving a Toyota pick-up was exiting an alley at the side of the suspect's residence at 8800 Valencia in Spring Valley. Strattman's vehicle drifted into the gravelled shoulder between the alley and Brunn's front yard, and the suspect's brother, David Brunn, shouted at Strattman from the front porch, Fulton said.

An argument ensued, escalating into a confrontation between the brothers and Strattman who avoided the weapon and punched Brunn in the face, the report said.

The suspect left the fight and entered the house, returning with a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle.

The victim, inspecting the damage to his vehicle, dove to safety. Brunn fired 12 rounds along the left side of the truck, but Strattman was not injured, Fulton said.

Brunn was arrested and then transported to Grossmont Hospital for treatment for injuries inflicted by the victim's blows. Brunn is in custody pending arraignment, Fulton said.

Motorcycle chase

Klaus Jurgen Geisler, 35, was arrested early Saturday morning following a high-speed chase by Deputy Gerry Moreno.

Geisler, who resides at 8280 Broadway in Lemon Grove, turned his motorcycle out Lemon Grove Way from Broadway and was paced at 55 mph in a 30 mph zone by Moreno, the report stated.

The suspect failed to yield to Moreno's lights and siren, and proceeded to lead a circuitous chase, running red traffic signals at Lemon Grove Way and Lemon Grove Avenue, Broadway and a stop sign at Grove Street, Fulton said.

Moreno followed the suspect onto eastbound 94, 125, and I-8, where the cyclist cut in and out of traffic, reaching speeds up to 90 mph, the report said.

Finally brought to a halt at Grossmont Boulevard and Wister, Geisler was arrested and charged with felony evading arrest, numerous vehicle violations, and five outstanding arrest warrants, Fulton said.

Commentary

by Max Goodwin

Just 30 days ago, citizens sent income tax money to Uncle Sam and his spendthrift family – House and Senate – which already had big plans for it.

According to a Heritage Foundation report, "Slashing the Deficit," some $20 billion is added to the federal budget deficit each year to accommodate pork barrel programs for special constituents.

The following was compiled with the help of Citizens Against Government Waste." Here's what your money helped pay for:

Fiscal 1988:

- Killer bee research ($1 million)
- Construction of access ramp to an Ohio amusement park ($1 million)
- Construction of a Bavarian-style ski resort in Idaho ($6.4 million)
- Fishing net entanglement research ($750,000)
- Subsidy for private airport in Ft. Worth, Texas ($25 million)
- Repairs on privately-owned dam in S. Carolina ($13 million)
- Maple syrup research ($100,000)
- Furnishing & fixtures for Sunflower and Sugarbeet Research Lab, Fargo, N.D. ($100,000)
- Research and alternative uses of N. Dakota oilseeds ($400,000)
- Research into health effects of fish oil ($1.3 million)
- Cigarette safety research ($300,000)
- Funding for a study by the National Seafood Council, a federal bureau to advise Americans to eat fish ($6 million)
- Funding for a Dunkin' Donuts store in Lawton, Okla. ($170,000)
- Research into taste aversion to beets and liver ($100,000)
- Grant to Illinois and Michigan Canal Heritage Corridor Commission ($250,000)
- Research on southern tar sand ($400,000)
- Construction of a harbor for private pleasure boats in Cleveland ($11 million)

Fiscal 1989:

- National survey of American sexual habits and attitudes ($2.1 million)
- Resource management related to Arctic goose activity ($400,000)
- Downtown revitalization of Ada, Okla., population 16,000 ($500,000)
- Peach research ($400,000)
- Census Bureau project to count trees, shrubs, and ornamental flowers ($700,000)

A sign of the times

B. T.

There are some who fear, or already feel, that the Trolley will cause significant traffic problems. Wayne R. Buttrom submitted the suggested change to the city's motto in protest of the intrusion of the Trolley.

From Where I Sit

by Frank Andrews

"It was a toss-up as to who caught the biggest fish, Edna Mae or George." Either of those beautiful trout would weight in at over 3 pounds each. Boy! This was my kind of fun.

I was with the blind fishermen (and fisherwomen) on their own special pier at Lake Jennings, built for and sponsored by SDG&E. The good Bob Rivera, Lake Manager, opened the gate to let me drive to the pier, as the lake is normally closed on Thursday. (The pier is open only for the blind fisher people).

This group of 15 enthusiastic blind Isaac Waltons and their helpers were having one great time catching giant-sized trout that made this old Minnesota Swede take notice. Their large cooler was plumb full of those nice "rainbows."

Mr. Richard (Penny) Pennywitt and Mr. Larry Hall are coordinators of this Blind Recreation Center event. The bait and fishing gear are donated by generous sporting goods stores in the area.

George Bruno conceded, "The fish that Edna Mae Smith caught feels just a bit heavier than mine, so she is the winner." With that, Edna Mae and her prized catch wanted their picture taken.

After visiting the Blind Bowlers at the Grove Lanes and now, the Blind Fishing at Lake Jennings, I can't tell which event was the most heartwarming for me. I have bowled and I have done a lot of fishing, but I don't believe that I have ever gotten as much enthusiasm as these courageous people.

A big "Thanks" is in order for the 7 or 8 volunteer coordinators and helpers that give so much of their time to help make others feel so happy and enthused. The volunteers that I met were: Bill Rogers, Larry Hall, Jon Siegfried, Bud Taft, Penny, Eddye Ray and Jack Meller.

Sports Commentary

by John E. Wirges

Jack Mc Keon teaches a simple brand of baseball. "They hit it, you catch it. They throw it, you hit it. Keep mistakes to a minimum, play team ball, give yourself up to move others into scoring position and hit what it will take to bring a runner home." It's that simple.

"No one, " he says, "can hit a 5-run homer. So why try."

Keeping things simple, baseball is a game of numbers. There are 9 innings, 4 bases, a manager and 5 coaches to direct the efforts of 24 players in trying to win 3 out of 5 games over a 162 game season.

Baseball folks go long on percentages and it is routine to bring in a right-handed pinch hitter to face a left-handed pitcher, and a southpaw swinger to hit a righty.

The line-up is often influenced by percentage factors, such as who is hitting, does the opponent play a running game, which outfielders have the strongest arms, does the catcher have the arm and skill to keep runners honest and how much time does the pitcher take to deliver the ball.

All these and many other factors are recorded and kept up-to-date by managers and coaches on all teams. Such factors are known as "the book," and every player and every team has one.

"Going by the book" is simply playing the percentages. There are times when a manager will go against the book, usually because he has information stored in his memory that strengthens his personal book on tactics.

No one understands "the book" better than Padres manager Jack McKeon. There are those who say he wrote most of it himself.

McKeon has been in baseball more than 40 years and his "book" is thick and heavy with the art of baseball craftsmanship.

He attacks the season with his 24 men much in the matter of a world master addressing a chess board. He carries 10 pitchers, 5 starters, a long man, a stopper and 3 set up men. That leaves him 14 men to fill 8 positions.

All teams carry 2 catchers and the Padres have a pair of the best. The book calls for defense in the middle and that means playing key men at shortstop, second base and center field. The Padres have a million dollar hitter at first and that leaves 8 men for 2 outfield positions and third base.

It's Mc Keon's job to keep all his troops at a keen playing edge and he'll shift his outfielders in and out of games according to book precentages, who's hot, who hits well against the opponents pitcher, and so on.

That leaves 4 guys to play 3rd base and back up elsewhere. McKeon loves it. If he didn't have an unsteady 3rd base, he would have to create a position like it somewhere else.

The "open" position allows McKeon to keep his extra men tuned to a fine playing edge. Tim Flannery, Luis Salazar, Randy Ready and Bip Roberts share 3rd, back up second and short and can come off the bench to pinch hit , pinch run and play defense. Salazar will even go to the mound to mop up when the bull pen is empty, hurting or out of fuel.

Baseball truly is a numbers game and as soon as his players figure it out and play his system, McKeon will have all the numbers he needs to add up to a championship season.

Rebirth praised

I am not usually given to writing publishers to comment on their product, but since the rebirth of the Lemon Grove Review and the rise of the Spring Valley Bulletin, I am moved to take pen in hand, (actually, electronic typewriter under finger) and tell you how much I enjoy your papers. You are giving us crisp, attractive, well-conceived publications. Andy Warhol was supposed to have said something to the effect that everyone should have at least 15 minutes of fame. Your newspapers have filled that need for many folks in the Lemon Grove, Spring Valley area.

Most of us have heard, at one time or another, the sound of fire police sirens and wondered what the problem might be. Publishing sheriff and fire department logs go a long way toward answering those questions. This is just another of the many services you offer to create an atmosphere of "hometown" in an era of urban sprawl.

My special favorite is Frank Andrew's column, "From Where I Sit." His down home style and his sense of humor make his column something to look forward to each week. Frank is "Everyman" and brings us thoughts on a current problem or a bit of nostalgia from a time we have known or lived.

Keep up the good work and please accept one reader's best wishes for continued success.

Morgan S. Thompson
Spring Valley

Editors note:
It is always appreciated when one receives a letter of praise, and I thank the writer of the above letter. However I must admit that I am embarrassed by the praise. I feel we have just begun the process of strengthening the "Review" and the "Bulletin" and would be the first to say that we have a long way to go.
I am committed to doing everything in my power to build the newspapers into strong, community newspapers. And with the community's support the newspapers will become the kind of papers of which you and I can be proud .

Hard work pays off for Lemon Grove band students at Maytime Band Review in National City

The Lemon Grove Music Department band students from grades 5 through 8 marched Saturday, May 6, during the Maytime Band Review in National City. Competition was tough against Class B bands from all over the state. Representing East County in this annual parade, made up almost entirely of bands, were 85 Lemon Grove students, under the direction of Tom Higdon.

At the awards ceremony following the parade, the Lemon Grove Marching Band won third place trophy. Drum Major, Christi Neely received the trophy for the band amidst cheers of triumph!

The tall flags division also won, for the first time ever, against other junior high and smaller high schools in their division. The eight members of the tall flags brought home a fourth place trophy.

Lemon Grove can be very proud of these young students, whose performances win such honors due to their dedication.

The band would like to extend its "thanks" to the community for allowing the numerous practice sessions on the street to make it all possible. Let's hear it for LEMON GROVE!

Southard's entry in costume contest wins top prize – again!

If you were driving or walking down Broadway and saw "Bernitraz Prison," you may have thought that the County was desperate for more jail space.

However, most Lemon Grove residents probably knew it was just Bernadine Southard's latest entry in the Merchants Costume Contest, which the Chamber of Commerce holds in conjunction with Old Time Days.

Bernadine and her staff go all out, and have won the contest for four consecutive years – with a different theme each year. Second place went to Aurora Nunez of Crafty Lady, for her old time post office theme. Lennart Ohlund of Grove Pastry won third place.

Congratulations to the winners and to all the merchants who participated.

First place winner for the fourth consecutive year, Bernadine Southard.

Aurora Nunez of Crafty Lady took second place.

Third place went to Lennart Ohlund of Grove Pastry Shop.

Catfish season opens at Lake Poway

Good friends, starlit nights, and catfish.

What could be better than summer catfish season at Lake Poway?

Beginning Wednesday, May 24, fishing fans may enjoy this special thrill for only the regular daily fishing and boating fees. The lake will be open from 6 a.m. to midnight, Wednesday through Sunday.

Daily fishing fees are only $3.50 for adults ($4 for non-Poway residents), $2 for youth ages 8 to 15, and children under 8 fish free with any paying adult.

Electric motor boats rent for $12 full day, $9 half day; row boats rent for only $5 full day, $4 half day. All half day prices begin at noon.

Biweekly stockings of 2,000 pounds of fresh channel catfish will supplement the already outstanding whiskered fish in the lake. Lake Poway concession stocks a complete supply of bait and tackle as well as food and drink.

Lake staff are prepared with fishing tips for beginners as well as tips on local "Hot Spots." To enjoy a mini vacation, experience the pleasure of night fishing normally enjoyed throughout the old south, and be only minutes from home.

For more information, call the lake office, Monday through Friday, 748-6600, extension 383, or 748-2224 anytime.

Bailey proposes Anti-Graffiti Action Plan

On Tuesday, May 23, 1989, Second District Supervisor George F. Bailey will urge the Board of Supervisors to adopt a comprehensive Anti-Graffiti Action Plan.

The plan includes a request for a Graffiti Eradication Ordinance, an Ordinance that would regulate dumpsters covered with graffiti, cooperation of public/private agencies with right of ways in San Diego communities, enforcement of current law that prohibits selling spray paint to minors, a graffiti "Hot Line" and graffiti clean-up as a condition of probation.

"Since graffiti is a sign of the presence of gangs and the frequently associated criminal and illegal drug activities, this action will be a major step in our fight against the drug and crime problem in our communities," said Bailey.

Recently, a very successful Anti-Graffiti Day was held in Spring Valley which included over 200 people from community organizations, law enforcement, schools, businesses, churches, service clubs, Supervisor Bailey and his staff.

This comprehensive anti-graffiti proposal before the Board on the 23rd will bring more clout in the fight against the number-one problem in San Diego County.

Schools to share lottery funding

California public education will receive approximately $270 million from the State Lottery for the January-March 1989 period, according to the estimates released this week by the California Lottery.

The $270 million estimate is based on the Lottery's preliminary audit of its quarterly financial statements.

The actual transfer to school districts, colleges and universities will take place in June, when the Lottery closes its books on the quarter.

This third quarter was the best third quarter in Lottery history, with Lotto and Scratcher sales totalling $714 million.

Lottery officials reported that annual sales should reach the upwardly revised goal of $2.6 billion, brining the annual education contribution to over $1 billion.

That will mean approximately $172 for every student in the California public education system, from Yreka to San Diego and from kindergarten to the University of California.

"The Lottery's mandate is to provide non-tax-generated supplemental funding for public education," said Lottery Director Chon Gutierrez. "We have made it our mission to manage sales growth to meet education's need for predictable funding."

The Lottery Act requires that 50% of total sales revenues and no more than 16% is allowed for administrative expenses including retailer commissions.

Because of administrative efficiencies, the Lottery has actually contributed more than the required 34% to education in every year of its existence.

The Lottery's contribution is by law supplemental, constituting the equivalent of approximately 3% of the total public education budget.

As a fundraising organization, the Lottery transfers money to schools, who make decisions on how to spend the money on the local level.

The Lottery has no role in deciding how the money is actually spent.

Mission Beach Sun Runner to begin service Saturday, May 27

The Sun Runner beach shuttle begins its seventh summer of special bus service to Pacific and Mission Beach, Saturday, May 27.

Every summer thousands of beach lovers use the car-free connection to the beach and back. Twenty-five cents still gets beach goers a place in the sun and not in beach traffic.

Service starts in time for the Memorial Day weekend and operates until September 4. It will also operate on July 4 and Labor Day, since holiday weekends are the most congested periods for the beach areas.

The Sun Runner provides a valuable alternative to the traffic congestion and limited parking near the beach areas.

Beach goers can park near one of the 49 stops and ride the shuttle to the beach. Beach lovers can take a chair, cooler and beach bags on board.

The Sun Runner route starts and ends at Mission Bay High School (where parking is almost always available) on Grand Avenue, with service from Grand to Garnet via Lamont, then from Garnet to Mission Blvd., and along Mission Blvd., as far south as Belmont Park/Bayside Park parking area.

Sun Runner's fare is still only 25¢; transfers and monthly passes are honored for fare. Because of the special price, Sun Runners do not issue transfers.

This special beach shuttle service is provided by the City of San Diego and is funded with Transient Occupancy Tax (hotel tax) money.

For more information about Sun runner, beach goers should call 233-3004.

State Employment Development Department releases seasonal unemployment figures for April

California's seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate was 5.4% in April, up from 4.5% in March, the state Employment Development Department (EDD) reported this week. Last year the rate was 5.2%.

EDD Director Kaye R. Kiddoo notes that while the rate had shown a rather sharp, one-month increase, "the unemployment rate was still averaging only 5.0% for the year, which is certainly among the lowest rates we've had in California."

The number of people employed in California totaled 13,339,000 in April, compared with 13,480,000 in March and 13,278,000 in April, 1988.

Unemployment totaled 757,000 in April, compared with 640,000 in March and 724,000 in April last year.

Of the unemployed, 387,200 were laid off; 99,700 left their jobs voluntarily and the remaining were new entrants or reentrants into the labor market.

In related data, EDD reported that there were 362,293 persons receiving regular unemployment insurance benefits during the April survey week.

This compares with 398,773 last month and 361,963 last year.

At the same time, new claims for unemployment insurance totaled 43,732 in April, compared with 48,348 in March and 51,123 in April last year.

The Department also reported that payroll employment (wage and salary jobs) in the nonfarm industries of California totaled 12,363,300 in April, a net gain of 43,300 jobs since the March survey. All industry divisions posted gains.

The strongest job growth, more than seasonally expected, was reported by the service industry. Construction also registered strong gains, adding 11,100 workers.

The number of people employed in agriculture was 341,000 in April, an increase of 61,300 over the month but down 19,400 compared with year ago figures.

Over the year (April, 1988 to April, 1989), nonfarm payroll employment increased by 371,700 jobs (a growth rate of 3.1 percent). All the major industrial divisions shared in the job gains with the exception of mining, which registered a decline of 1,100 jobs.

Services and trade (both retail and wholesale) continued to post the strongest job growth, based on the actual number of jobs added compared with last year. Services was up by 116,200 and trade grew by 94,000.

Based on the percentage of growth, construction continues to post the largest increase, up 6.1 percent (35,800 jobs).

Kirk rejoins McMillan Realty in Rancho San Diego

Dorothy Kirk, a veteran San Diego County real estate broker, has rejoined McMillin Realty as manager of the East County office at 2990 Jamacha Road in Rancho San Diego, as announced by Scott McMillin, president.

A native of St. Louis, Kirk majored in business at the University of Illinois and entered real estate sales in San Diego County in 1977.

From 1979 to 1982 she worked as a sales agent and relocation director for McMillin Realty before leaving to head her own company with offices in Old Town and Carlsbad.

Kirk and her husband, Allen, reside in El Cajon and enjoy sailing in their off-hours. They have a married daughter, who lives in Sacramento.

McMillin Realty recently broke ground for a new free-standing office for the Rancho San Diego branch at 2916 Jamacha Road.

Kirk says she currently has a staff of 20 licensed agents, but is actively recruiting seasoned sales personnel, with the goal of a staff of 35.

McMillin Realty is the sales and marketing arm of the McMillin Companies, as well as San Diego County's fastest growing resale real estate firm.

In 1988 under Scott McMillin's leadership, the company achieved its all-time highest levels of both resale and new-home sales volume.

Mt. Miguel class of '89 events

By Cristina Taboga

That time of the year is soon upon us – senior graduation. And the seniors at Mt. Miguel are more than excited to leave their high school career behind and move onto bigger and brighter things. The last two months of high school will be filled with many activities.

Starting on Friday, May 26, the Class of '89 will have their Grad Night at Disneyland. The time of departure from school will be exactly 7:30 p.m., and the park will be open from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m.

The senior prom, held at the Sheraton East Hotel on Harbor Island, will take place on June 2. The prom will begin at 8 p.m. and end at midnight. Bids go on sale on the campus starting on May 15, and the cost will be $47 per couple. The price will include entrance to the prom, dancing, punch and hor d'oeuvres.

Senior Awards night will be June 6, and seniors will be acknowledged for their accomplishments while at Mt. Miguel.

Another memorable event will be the time capsule in which seniors will be able to put in items that will represent their senior year. Last day to submit items will be June 7 and on June 9, the time capsule will be entombed at the Cypress View Mausoleum. A bronze plaque will be placed on the crypt, naming all participating schools. The capsule will be "resurrected" for Mt. Miguel's ten year reunion in 1999.

The Baccalaureate ceremony will be held on June 11, at the Skyline Wesleyan Church, on Skyline and Jamacha Road.

The ceremony will take place at 1:30 p.m., and seniors are required to wear their caps and gowns.

On Friday, June 16, the senior class of '89 will finally be graduating from Mt. Miguel High School. The ceremony will begin at 6 p.m. at the stadium. Parents, friends and relatives are encouraged to see the seniors as they accept their diplomas.

Mt. Miguel photographers go on safari

By Kathy Logue

Mount Miguel's Photography Club sponsored a trip to the Wild Animal Park on April 21.

Many of the participating students had never visited the Park before, but even those who had been there at another time were able to enjoy the photographic opportunities that the Park has to offer.

Students were first ushered onto a tram that took the sightseers out to the large enclosures where many of the large animals are kept. The tram made frequent stops, allowing many chances to get good photographs of the animals.

Later the group went on the Kilamanjaro hiking trail, which offered a chance for a closer look at the animals than was possible on the tram. It also gave an opportunity to get close-up pictures of the beautiful plants that the park displays.

After a lunch break, students were given the opportunity to go off into different areas of the Park in small groups in order to find more subjects to photograph. Many chose to attend some of the shows that the park puts on daily.

The Photography Club's next event will be an art exhibit. It will be a joint effort of the Photography and Art Clubs to be held on May 18. There will be a $1 admission fee.

Arbor Day Foundation offers tips

Preventative maintenance can go a long way toward reducing storm damage to trees, according to the National Arbor Day Foundation.

And prompt care following a storm can help retain the value and beauty of trees.

An illustrated, easy-to-follow guide called, "When a Storm Strikes," has been prepared for homeowners. It can be obtained free of charge by writing the National Arbor Day Foundation.

"The old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure is especially applicable to protecting trees from storm damage," Jane Rosenow, the executive director of the National Arbor Day Foundation said.

"The things you want to do anyway to keep a tree healthy and beautiful – proper pruning, watering and fertilizing for example – also help trees resist damage from storms."

The bulletin includes valuable tips on selecting the right trees for planting to avoid problems with breakage, and planting trees in the right place. It also contains advice on preventative measures for large, valuable trees such as having a professional arborist install flexible cabling, rigid bracing, or lightning protection.

"When a Storm Strikes" features easy-to-understand illustrations showing how to repair trees that have been damaged in a storm: how damaged trees should be pruned; how to repair torn bark; how to reset partially uprooted trees; and even how to restore the form of broken conifers.

To obtain your free bulletin, send your name and address to: "When a Storm Strikes," National Arbor Foundation, Nebraska City, Nebraska, 68410.

The Lemon Grove Historical Society installed new officers for 1989-90, during the organization's meeting Thursday, May 4.

Installed to their posts were: Dr. Amorita Treganza, President; Pete Smith, First Vice-President in charge of programs; Jim Folk, Second Vice-President in charge of membership; Eva Berry, Secretary; and Paul McCormick, Treasurer. The installation was conducted by member Mark O'Rourke.

The society meets the first Thursday of each month at 1:30 p.m. in the community room of the Lemon Grove Library.

Programs of historical and general interest follow a brief business meeting each month, and refreshments are served afterward. The public is always welcome to attend.

Rodeo offers a taste of México

The first Charreada (Mexican-style rodeo) of the season will be Sunday, May 21 at 1 p.m. in Rancho San Diego at the Highway 94 rodeo grounds. The grounds are located 1/2 mile past the iron bridge.

It is sponsored, as in years past, by the Charros Cerro San Miguel for the purpose of exposing the public to traditional Mexican-style Charro rodeos, according to Benny Acosta, charreada sponsor.

"Los Lupez" Nortino dance music will play for dancers. The public is invited; a donation of $5 is requested.

Art Assn. to hold monthly meeting

The East County Art Association will hold its monthly meeting, Thursday evening, May 25 at 7 p.m., Wells Park Community Center, located at 1153 Madison Avenue in El Cajon.

Our guest demonstrator will be Robert Landry, watercolorist, known both locally and nationally for his teaching and demonstration skills. Landry will paint one of his magical watercolors and will donate his painting for a drawing.

The public is invited free. For additional information, call 462-8058 or 561-9174.

Family activities celebrate opening

Llama rides, performances of the "Just Say No" musical, creative arts exercises and information for families will highlight the activities at the Alvarado Parkway Institute (API) Family Fair, scheduled for Saturday, May 20, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

The Family Fair is being held to celebrate the opening of API's 40-bed Child & Adolescent Center and will take place in the parking lot at 6535 Alvarado Road.

Creative, experiential activities for children and informational booths for parents will be offered in tandem with carnival games, a dunk booth, merry go round and llama rides. Free hot dogs, popcorn and Pepsi will also be offered.

According to API Child & Adolescent Center Administrator Jim Plummer, one of the highlights of the day will be two special performances of the "Just Say No" musical world tour, of which API is a major sponsor.

The musical features young performers whose anti-drug message is aimed at teaching children how to recognize and resist the peer pressure that can lead them toward drugs. The performances are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The dunk booth will offer children a chance to dunk their favorite San Diego Athletes, who will be raising money for the Health Awareness Foundation. Families can purchase 5 balls for $1, with all proceeds benefitting the foundation. All other activities are offered free of charge.

Information about alcohol and drugs, developmental changes, school problems getting through the summer and "super parenting" will be offered, and professionals will be on hand to talk with parents about any other issue in which they are interested.

For more information on the Family Fair or services at API, call the Child & Adolescent Center at 583-9991.

Over 1,000 seniors to compete

The Geriatric Games V, an annual sports competition for extraordinarily agile seniors will be held Friday, May 19, at the Kearny High School athletic field, starting at 10 a.m., with closing ceremonies at 3 p.m.

More than 1,000 health care facility contestants and staff are expected to compete in a wide array of contests including basketball, shotput, soccer, and three wheelchair events: a race, relay and volleyball. The Games are the only one-of-its-kind in California.

The competition is co-sponsored by the San Diego Health Care Assn., the San Diego Council of Activity Coordinators and the Council of Long-Term Nurses of San Diego.

William D. Woodcox of the Cloisters of La Jolla is chairing the event. He explained that participants come from more than 80 long-term care centers throughout San Diego County.

Alvarado sponsors self-help lecture

As the song says, "Breaking up is hard to do." The breaking up is difficult, but filling in the gaps after the relationship loss is the true challenge. Since the process of rebuilding can seem impossible, the De-pression Treatment Program at Alvarado Parkway Institute (API) has designed a lecture to steer individuals in a new direction with a positive attitude.

According to Ellen Reardon, R.N., M.S.N., featured speaker for the lecture, "It is a process of learning to reestablish relationships." Rebuilding After A Relationship Loss will examine the feelings that follow a breakup such as grief, anger, loneliness, rejection and guilt.

Understanding these feelings helps one rebuild and reestablish healthy relationships. In her presentation, Reardon includes divorce and the grief process, methods of expressing anger and the need for healing before entering another relationship.

The lecture on Thursday, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. is free to the public. The presentation will be in the API Cafeteria at 7050 Parkway Drive and is the second part to the API Quarterly Lecture Series.

World-class tennis players to compete

The world's ninth-ranked women's professional tennis player, Manuela Maleeva, will join Steffi Graf and other top players in the Great American Bank Tennis Classic, July 31-August 6, at San Diego Tennis and Racquet Club. The tournament, the largest event of its kind ever held in San Diego, will disperse a purse of $200,000.

In March, the 22-year-old Maleeva won the tournament at Indian Wells, which included such tough competitors as Chris Evert, Hana Mandlikova and Helena Sukova. She won the singles titles at last year's Virginia Slims competition and holds the singles bronze medal from the 1988 Olympic Games. She was a finalist at the European Indoors and Brighton during 1988.
